1	ARBITRATOR: I don't think we need to discuss it now, but as holing the holy books in the hand....

01 10.02 am)

02 ARBITRATOR: Good morning, everyone.

03 Welcome. Thank you very much for the collaborative

04 way that you have worked together to get us here with

05 minimal applications.

06 Before we start, do think ear of the parties have

07 any applications they would like to make?

08 MR AHMED: Nod from our side.

09 MR MWALONGO: Not from our side as well.

10 ARBITRATOR: Have the parties agreed the wording of the 11 oath? Was that agreed?

12 MR AHMED: I don't think we have -- rav rav I have shared

13 that email.

14 ARBITRATOR: Maybe you discuss that -- because we've got

15 time until we've got our first witness.

16 MR AHMED: Have you received the email, Mr Mwalongo.

17 MR MWALONGO: Yes, I saw it rav rav it's straightforward,

18 holing the holy books in the hand.

19 ARBITRATOR: I don't think we need to discuss it now, but as

20 long as we have got it agreed by the time the first

21 witness is called.

22 MR AHMED: It should be fairly basic, so no problem.

23 ARBITRATOR: It should be.

24 Well, if there's nothing else, I don't have any ^^.

25 MR AHMED: We are calling Mr John cue I will ^^ depending on

01     what time hi finishes, we may change the order from
02     Iqbal Singh who was supposed to go next to again do you
03     chaud are you. The only reason for that is because of 04     trying to set up a link remotely for him, I think we are
05     trying to establish that for tomorrow, so just to make
06     sure that that does happen, there may be a slight
07     alteration.

08     MR MWALONGO: That's fine.

09     ARBITRATOR: I imagine we also just need to have a think
10     whether what time we're ready to Mr Gau committee,
11     whether you want him to be held in purdah overnight or 12     whether you would prefer him -- we'll see where we get
13     to today.

14     MR AHMED: Yes, exactly, if we finish with the openings
15     fairly late or Mr Mwalongo thinks he won't be able to 16     finish Mr Kau I will today, then we can start him in the
