Nothin' but Debt: Which NCAA Tournament Schools Give Low-Income Students the Best Deal?

By Mike Tiggs and Olga Pierce, ProPublica

We used federal data to create an NCAA Tournament bracket that measures each school's ability to graduate low-income students. We ranked schools by the percentage of undergraduates from low-income households given to those students, the tuition discount that those students received, and the percentage of those students who graduate.

Click any game in the bracket below to view more information. Debt by Degrees head-to-head matchup. You can also compare

b. Quick access of bundles

- i. In addition to using the Search bar, you can explore documents by the Navigate Bundle tab. To do this, navigate to My files section and click the Navigate Bundle tab at the top right side.

2-MY FILES SECTION

- ii. Select the Bundle, Tab and Page.
- iii. All files will then be displayed in the Document explorer section from the selected bundle.

c. Custom Bundle

This feature enables users to efficiently manage their key documents and prioritize important case files for hearings. This allows users to organize, assign, and prepare documents that are crucial for presentation and reference during hearings, ensuring all essential materials are accessible in one place. Custom Bundles are private and only visible to the user, providing a secure and personalized document management system.

➤ Assigning files in the Custom Bundle

- i. For quick and easy file assignment, navigate to My files section. Here, you can assign single or multiple documents, as well as individual or multiple folders, from the electronic hearing bundles.
- ii. To assign a bundle/folder, hover over to Bundle explorer and choose the desired bundle/folder from the Master Bundle. Click the small box next to the folder. Once selected, a blue bar will appear at the top. Click Custom Bundle Quick Assign and then click Assign.

2-MY FILES SECTION

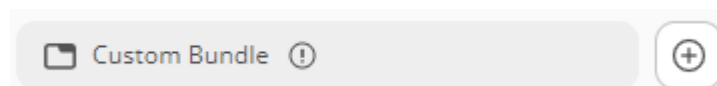

- iii. To assign a specific document, start by clicking on the bundle/folder from the Master Bundle to show all documents.
- iv. Then, in the Document explorer section, hover over the desired document and click the small box to assign.
- v. After clicking, a blue bar will appear at the top. Select Custom Bundle Quick Assign, and click Assign.

- vi. To access your Custom Bundle, click the drop-down in Master Bundle.

- vii. Click Custom Bundle.

➤ Unassigning files from the Custom bundle

- i. Navigate to the Custom Bundle section.
- ii. Hover over to the list of files and check the small box next to the file(s).
- iii. A blue bar will appear at the top. Click Unassign.
- iv. Confirm the action by selecting Unassign.

2-MY FILES SECTION

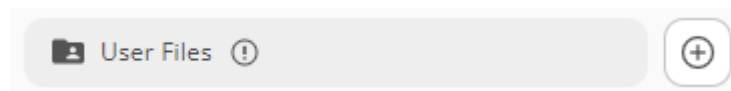

d. User Files

User Files is a designated section in My files where users can upload any document exclusively accessible and visible to the user. This section provides a centralized location for managing essential files to the user.

- i. To access, navigate to the My files section.
- ii. Click the drop-down in Master Bundle.

- iii. Click (+) in User Files.

- iv. Create a name for this section. After typing, click Create.
- v. Once you created the new section, click Upload without folder.

- vi. In the right panel, you will see the option to upload file. Click Browse to start uploading your files.

2-MY FILES SECTION

- vii. After selecting files, click Upload. Once the upload reaches 100%, the file will be listed under the section you created.
- viii. To delete the file, hover over to the document and check the small box.
- ix. A blue bar will appear at the top. Click Delete.

e. Transcripts

- i. To view Transcript, click the drop-down in Master Bundle.

- ii. Click Transcript.

f. Search documents using Search Bar

- i. Navigate to My files section. Click on Search.
- ii. You can search by File name, Tab number, Bundle number or Exhibit number. Additionally, you can search documents by Date in different formats, Content Type and Location.

For precise document search, select Exact.

If you are uncertain with the document details, select Contain.

To begin searching documents from a specific bundle, select Start with.

2-MY FILES SECTION

g. Searching documents in Master Index with hyperlink

- i. Navigate to the My files section, click on Index in Document explorer.

- ii. Upon clicking, the Master Index will first appear in the preview panel at the right side.
- iii. Within the preview panel, double-click the Master Index to view the document in a new tab and larger screen.
- iv. Within the Master Index, the tab references are hyperlinked, and the documents are embedded in each tab.
- v. To view the document, click on the hyperlinked tab reference, then click on the embedded document.
- vi. After clicking the embedded document, a new tab will open allowing you to view the file separately.
- vii. To search, click on Search  and enter the Tab number; the result will be highlighted after searching.

- Click Issue  to display documents with assigned issues.
- Select Contact  to display documents with assigned contacts.
- Select Tag  to display documents that have assigned tags.
- To stop sorting, simply click again the button of the selected label.

i. Sorting documents according to file types

- eTabella accepts all file types, including non-PDF files. To sort documents by file type, select the File type under the Display option in Document explorer section.
- Once selected, all documents will be sorted according to the chosen file type.
- To display all files without filtering, select All.

2-MY FILES SECTION

j. Opening non-PDF files

eTabella accepts all file types, making it easy for you to access and work with your documents directly within the software. You can view Microsoft Office files such as Word Documents, PowerPoint Presentations, Excel Spreadsheets (excluding Outlook emails) and all image files within the preview panel and by opening it in new browser tab.

- i. To open the file within the preview panel, navigate to the desired file, and single-click it.
- ii. The file will be displayed in the preview panel at the right side, immediately after clicking.

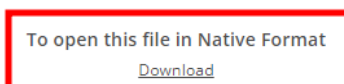

- iii. In the blue notification bar, there are two options:

Download: Click to download the file in its native format.

Open in New Browser Tab: Click to view the selected file in new tab.

- iii. For other native files such as emails, you need to download the file first, to view the content.

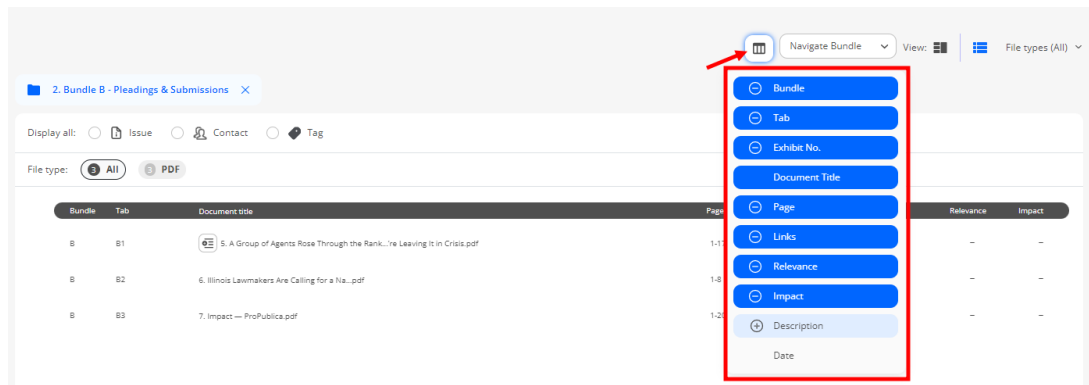

k. Column filter

This function enables the users to manage and customize the details displayed of a selected folder/bundle which serve as headers. These details are: Bundle, Tab, Exhibit No., Document Title, Page, Links, Relevance, Impact, Description, Date

2-MY FILES SECTION

- In the My files section, click on Column Filter .
- Select the details you want to add (+) or remove (-).
- Once selected, the chosen details will be added and displayed in a column.
- To remove any details, simply deselect by clicking (-), and the column will also be removed.

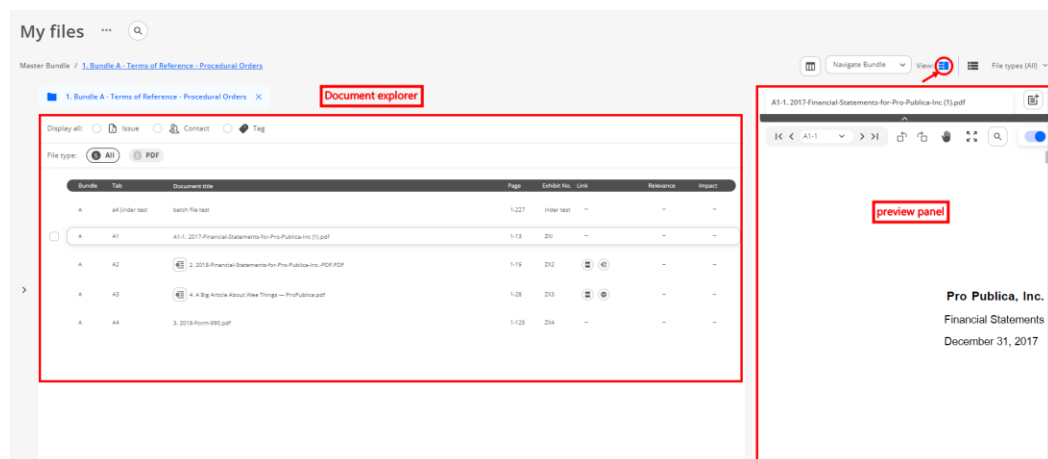

I. Switching My files viewing section

This viewing function allows the user to seamlessly navigate between Bundle explorer and Document explorer in My files section. This enhances the user experience by switching the viewing icons without needing to close and reopen previously selected documents.

- Navigate to the My files section, and click on View at the top right.

- Click the first viewing icon  to view all documents and the preview panel, hiding the Master Bundle in Bundle explorer.

2-MY FILES SECTION

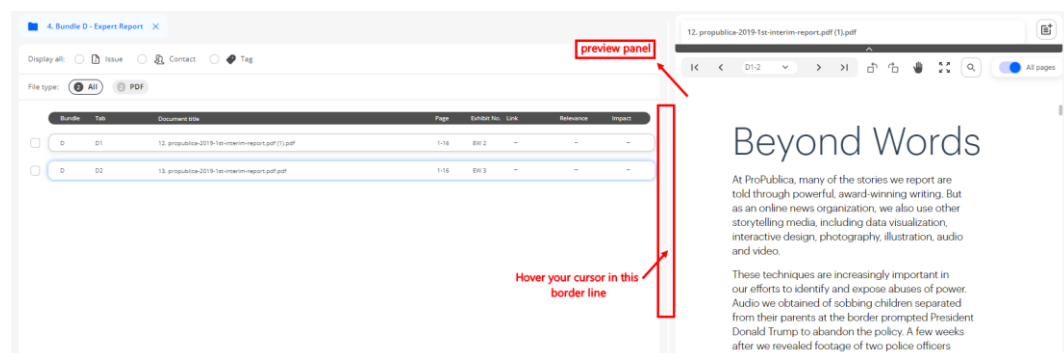

- iii. Click the second viewing icon  to view the Master Bundle in Bundle explorer, hiding only the document in the preview panel.

m. Adjusting the preview panel

This function improves the user's viewing experience in the My files section by adjusting the preview panel size based on their viewing preference.

- Hover over to the border line to view the adjustment arrow.
- Drag the arrow to adjust the size of the preview panel according to your viewing preference.
